

What if all the principles that got you into education disappeared one by one?

The face of education is changing forever. From teacher training, curriculum and assessment through to inspection, funding, academies and free schools, almost every aspect of state education will be dismantled by the coalition government over this parliamentary term, with irreversible consequences for you and your pupils.

To find out how this affects you and what you can do about it, visit www.atl.org.uk/speakoutforeducation